SECOND EUROPEAN REGION CONFERENCE

MILAN, 19-20 MAY 2022 - HOTEL PRINCIPE DI SAVOIA

Mobility of work, capital, IP and business in a changing European tax environment

WELCOME

Dear colleagues and friends,

We would like to mark your calendar for the upcoming IFA European Region Conference 2022 “Mobility of work, capital, IP and business in a changing European tax environment” to be held in Milan, Italy, on May 19-20 2022.

The conference shall give the stage to distinguished and experienced speakers -academics, tax officials and practitioners- to highlight crucial issues and track future trends in international taxation. The sessions will concentrate on the issues arising from mobility of work, capital, IP and business in the light of the newest tax developments including implementation of BEPS and ATAD. Panel discussions shall also address the review of the practical tax implications of the most recent cross-border market deals and reorganizations which have taken place in Europe.

Speakers shall provide a comprehensive multi-jurisdictional tax expertise including representatives of Revenue Agencies and international organisations, tax academics, tax practitioners and tax directors. The Conference will be held in downtown Milan and will extend over two days, Thursday and Friday, May 14-15 2020. The preliminary agenda includes one plenary session dealing with corporate and personal tax aspects of mobility of work to include secondment of employees within MNE and its related corporate tax ramifications such as PE threshold related to physical presence in the source State. Two sets of parallel sessions shall then cover selected topics (mobility of capital, business and IP) dealing with income taxes and indirect taxation and so provide a range of issues which may be selected by the audience.

We are looking forward to seeing you in Milan!

Kind regards,

Guglielmo Maisto, Chair of IFA Milan
